This song has been created to structure the end of each lesson as well as heralding the end of the second year.

It is to be sung every time the lesson is at an end and while giving out the stamps, packing and clearing up the place.

As a lesson in itself one could go through some of the things the children have learnt during the year and have the children name the topics.

Listen to various songs and find out whether the children remember the subject matter of the lessons.

Activities p.47
